In the space below, please provide a few comments about the MOST VALUABLE knowledge/understanding/skills you gained as result of the taking this class:

- learned things about the Hawaiian culture I didn't know about
- Learning about Hawaiian medicinal uses.
- The plants of Hawaii and how the old Hawaiian people use to live without stress.
- I gained a better knowledge of why Hawaiians did things the way they did. I also gained more clarity on some religious rules and rituals.
- I have learned more about the Hawaiian values that we need to treasure and how important education means to the individual. I learned more about why the ancients do what they did and I am now more aware of what life in the Hawaiian island and being an Hawaiian means to the culture in general. I enjoyed kimo as my teacher and will continue to find ways of taking more classes from him.
- I always had some knowledge of Hawaiian plants, but taking this course I have learned so much more than just the basic uses. THANK YOU!
- Everything I learned in this class is very valuable to me. I learned something new and interesting everyday. Kumu Keaulana made the class and all the material understandable and very enjoyable to learn about. There was never a dull or boring moment.
- I didn't really learn anything new as a result of this class until the last month of the semester. I'd have to say the most valuable knowledge I gained as a result of this class is a better understanding of plants as medicine. Also I learned more about the different types of kalo and how they are classified.
Kumu provided us with his personal knowledge not only about the plants and how they can be used but all of his knowledge about the true Hawaiian culture and spirituality. All though I have taken many Hawaiian studies courses, including upper level ones, I learned many new things in each class period.

all these plants we see on the Hawaiian islands are here for a reason, almost every plants are use for medicinal uses.

The most valuable knowledge that I have learned from this class is understanding more traditional usage's of native Hawaiian and introduced plants that Hawaiians found uses for. The mana in this knowledge is what I would like to say that I have acquired by listening to Uncle Kimo, and I feel there is so much more to be learned. This class has only intensified my interest in the lifestyles of traditional Hawaiians and the plants here in Hawaii.

Learn about history of Hawaii and pacific region. Learn about how agriculture impacted the economy. Mass transit controversy Different plants that I have seen before, but unaware of its uses. Mainly the different uses of its medicinal purpose.

everything was knowledgeable.

learned about every aspect of medicinal plant in the pacific/ HAWAIIAN..

EVERYTHING about native plants, learned that their are so many plants that is use as medicines,etc..

I LEARNED HOW TO MEDICINAL HERBS.  HOW THE HAWAIIANS MADE USE OF THEIR LAND

Learned to identify medicinal plants and its uses. Hawaiian plants are not only medicinal but can also be used for food. Also other plants that were brought here for ornamental and other uses.

I gained valuable knowledge pertaining to Hawaiian plants, the Hawaiian way of life, and Hawaiian medicine. Taking this class broadened my overall perspective of what Hawaiian life was like many years ago.

the importance of Hawaiian plants and culture.

I learned a lot about different types of Hawaiian plants from how they got to Hawaii and how they were used in Hawaii.

Kumu Keaulana provided his own personal experiences and life applications that you can not get from a book.

With the extensive amount of medicinal plants it can be said that in Hawaii, you are surrounded by medicine.

Kumu Keaulana provided information that I never knew. Growing up in the city never learning my Hawaiian culture. Today I have a more appreciation of my culture.

was able to understand the differences between cultures and plants that are endemic and indigenous

I learned not only more about the physical and geographical features of Hawaii and the Pacific, but about these cultures and their societies and so much more.

How the perspective of my opinions have changed.

knowledge of the struggle of Native Hawaiians.

I learned allot

I learned a lot that I thought I knew, but I didn't. I got a better understanding about the Hawaiian culture.

the furthering of my knowledge of the history of Hawaii and the rest of the pacific

I've gained a greater understanding of Hawaiian history as it happened in the islands. This class touched upon subjects that I have not encountered in high school or any other class.

I learned many different aspects of the Hawaiian culture and history of the government.

I never knew so much issues existed and that there was so much to learn and know about the history of Hawaiian culture.

Don’t change anything cause everything is good

I came to understand the "true" history of Hawaiian and Pacific history, and also the political struggles that they have endured in the modern age.

The Hawaiian and Pacific peoples have cultures to be proud of, not ashamed of.

I learned the important issues arising in the Hawaiian community.

The Hawaiian culture is so intricate and methodical of a people that I never realized. The illegal overthrow was not legal and now I completely understand how and why that has happened. Very interesting material I lived here all my life and I never knew most of what has happened here over the centuries until taking this class.

I learned about the illegal overthrow of the Hawaiian Kingdom and how it affected the native Hawaiian people even today. We also learned about how the land is being misused by the Federal Government, the Military, and the State. I learned a lot of useful information that I was never really aware of before.

The most valuable knowledge as a result of taking this class was to understand the value of the Hawaiian culture.

I LEARNED WHAT HAPPEN TO HAWAIIAN ISLAND AND OTHER PACIFIC ISLANDER

I learned that the Hawaiian people suffered way more than I could of imagined. They were betrayed and ultimately treated unfairly.

The most that I got from this class was tons of information on things about a place I've been living my own life. I learned to appreciate more, the culture that I am. I learned about the struggle that people of the Hawaiian and Pacific had to go through, and are still dealing with. I gained more empathy for those people. It made me want to change some of the choices I make, and to be more involved with what goes on at home (Hawaii).

The most valuable knowledge I have learned was probably about the destruction of the Hawaiian kingdom by the white man and their selfish development plans. I knew that the foreigners affected the islands negatively but not to the extremes

The most valuable knowledge that I've learned from being in this class has been all about the Hawaiian culture. Being a Hawaiian I've learned a lot about my culture and its practices the right way from a great teacher. I've learned to appreciate my heritage and culture from learning some of the material in class.

I've learned that Hawaiians have an issue with sovereignty and getting their Hawaiian Kingdom back.

I think it was really important that she talked about pre-contact and post-contact Hawaii. It helps to have a perspective of both parts of the Hawaiian History so that we understood what it was like and what it was like after foreigners came in. I definitely have a greater respect for the Hawaiian culture...not that I didn't have any before.

I've gained a lot of information from this class. Learning more about the Hawaiian culture and how to speak a little bit.

understanding more about Hawaiian people and culture

All that we learned in Hawaiian History was valuable, the information helped me value more of my language, culture and the island which I live on.

I learned to appreciate and understand the issues surrounding the involvement of the U.S. in Hawaii and how the Native Hawaiian's were considered savages. It enlightened me as far as cross cultural understanding. Genai presented the course in a very realistic manner with great documentation and references.

My most valuable knowledge I have gain by taking this class is cultural and historical understanding of the Hawaiian culture. My appreciation of wanting to know more of the culture because in sense i did not know as much as i taught i did.

The most valuable knowledge/understanding/skills that I have gained as a result of taking this class would be a better understanding of Hawaii, its people the kanaka maoli, and what has happened to them today. How they live today is a direct effect of what happened in the past and to understand what has happened makes me appreciate what they once had. They can never change the past, but steps can be taken to help them to further sustaining what little they have left of their culture.

I learned a lot about the culture of the Hawaiian Kingdom.

This class allowed me to open up my mind to the different cultures in the PACIFIC and not just in Hawaii. It helped me to understand struggles that What, if any, cross-cultural understandings have you gained as a result of taking this class?

The understanding of the overthrow of the Hawaiian kingdom

I ENJOYED THIS CLASS A LOT BECAUSE I GAINED A WHOLE LOT OF UNDERSTANDING FOR WHAT IT MEANS TO LIVE IN HAWAII. NOT JUST BECAUSE ITS “PARADISE” BUT HOW WE RESPECT THE LAND, PLANTS, ANIMALS, OCEAN, ETC.

I have gained a better understanding of the struggle that the Hawaiian People have gone through regarding the illegal overthrow of the Hawaiian Kingdom. A greater understanding of the political details regarding the lies that the haole people fed the people with Hawaiian Blood.

The most valuable piece of knowledge I gained from taking this class is that the united states government is a bunch of liars. They steal land, blow up stuff, and they make like no big deal.

The fact that the foreigners illegally overturned the HAWAIIAN KINGDOM. *ckin bastards. bringing all kite pilikia to our aina. i think that we should have a class that exhibits how to counter their actions.

Documented history of the Hawaiian Kingdom and Americas actions in that history.

Although I have missed quite a few classes for personal reasons, I feel like I understand so much more about culture, and have much more appreciation for it now. I now feel like I have more knowledge on Hawaiian ancestry, traditions, etc. But its because I learned it all from Kumu Keliikuli.

I learned to have a greater appreciation for Hawaiians.

This class helps you learn about the culture more in depth. If you are from the mainland like myself, it is hard to understand what the needs of the Hawaiian people are. It really helps to know about the environment and the culture that you live in so that you can help to contribute and understand.

I have a better knowledge what it is to be Hawaii an the legends of the people.

I have gained a great deal of knowledge and understanding about Hawaii. I learned about the geology,climate, and Polynesian voyaging of Hawaii. Also, the origin of the Hawaiian language, ancestry, religion, culture, and traditions.

The way the people came to the islands in the Pacific.

The most knowledgeable skills that I've gained is being able to look into the Hawaiian culture, and see how the geographical aspect corresponds with the culture.

I got a lot more knowledge on how the overthrow of the Hawaiian monarchy was illegal. I already knew a fair amount, however we went more in depth to who organized the overthrow and why it was illegal.

I was always curious about the other cultures in Hawaii that I was not familiar with. It helped to understand what makes them different culturally and it was cool to learn that their culture is very similar to mines. I enjoyed learning about the Micronesians, Melanesians, and Polynesians and learning about where they come from. It was cool to read about their different islands and cultures.

I am from the mainland, so I learned so much about hawaii and the (us involvement) overthrow of hawaii. i understand the culture and i have a great respect for it now. i am better at and learning the Hawaiian language.

After taking this class. I learned much more than what are in the History Books we have. The most valuable understanding I gained after this class was that Asia is on the rise and that globalization is a big deal in my life ever than before.

I have gained how to take care of my land and people before us our kapunas the responsibilities they give us is for a reason because they used to do the same thing.

I also learned that hawaii is becoming more populated through out the years that they putting more people on the streets cuzz the cannot afford to pay rent but they go homeless.

I learned that history is a multifaceted ball. And that you need to look at all sides to gain a better understanding of the world. History is always told by the winner and we must also listen to the loser's story, as well.

What Asia is right now, and how and why it got there.

Most valuable knowledge and understanding that I gained has about where I am from, Hawaii. I feel that I understand the culture and religion of Hawaii more then before. I learned a lot of things that I never new existed and the actual beauty Hawaii has to offer.

Need to study southeast asia for they are growing rapidly and that is where the economy is going to be.

The most valuable knowledge that I have learned from taking this class, was that the past History of the Hawaii/Pacific economy/society has a big impact on what Hawaii has become today, and will continue to have an impact into the future.

I was previously unaware of the history of Asia in relation to current state of the world today especially the economy.

My mind has been opened up to the lies I was told as a child growing up about Asian perceptions. In truth this class woke me up to what should be possible and fought for.

he got me thinking outside of our state and thinking about international affairs. i never use to care or wonder what happened outside of the U.S. i read more than i ever use to. i also watch the news now :) i am more engaged in my studies now because of his lectures. he showed me why i should appreciate what i have in terms of education compared with SE asia.

skills to evaluate information from all sources by think in more than one perspective

This class really put everything into perspective as far as the rise in power in Asia is concerned.

I have greater understanding and appreciation for the island in the Polynesian Triangle and it's people. I have lived here my whole life but never really understood the history of Hawaii and it's people. Now, I feel I have a better understanding of Hawaii and why Hawaii and it's people are the way we are today.

History as a events that relate to each other as a whole instead of a singular event.

I am of Pacifick Islander heritage. I learned from this course the origination of many traditions. Also, I learned how similar the people of Polynesia actually was.

The most valuable knowledge/understanding gained was the knowledge and understanding of the cultural history.

I think that the most valuable knowledge we learned wasn't in the notes or class lectures but in the way we got to work together in the class field trip to kahana valley. i think that, that field trip alone taught us a lot about how the Hawaiians worked together, how Hawaiians worked with the lands, and just a lot about what we have learned throughout the semester on a more in depth level.

learning about the land and how the ancient Hawaiians cared for it, along with taking the time to develop cultures and traditions

Hawaiian origin/agriculture/culture

We learned important facts about malama aina and water use.

a lot more than i started with.

The understanding of not only the history of Hawaii but a respect for the land.

I loved the Field trips that he offered us. It made me better understand the topics with first hand experience.

I know a little more about my cultural

THE MOST VALUABLE KNOWLEDGE/UNDERSTANDING/SKILLS THAT I HAVE GAINED THROUGH TAKING THIS CLASS IS THAT I WAS ABLE TO LEARN MORE ABOUT MY HAWAIIAN CULTURE THAT I NEVER EVEN KNEW OF. I DIDN'T REALLY KNOW MUCH ABOUT QUEEN LILIUOKALANI AND BY READING AND DOING ASSIGNMENTS ON HER BOOK TAUGHT ME A LOT OF HAWAII! AND ABOUT THE HAWAIIAN PEOPLE. how the Hawaiian culture started and how its now influenced by many different cultures now.
The plants that was used in Hawaii can be used by anyone anywhere.
The Hawaiians' mindset behind Western contact was explained very well, and enhanced my understandings.
The biggest cross-cultural understanding I have gained from this class was that many of the traditional medicines and plants used by ancient Hawaiians are also used in various places around the world. A lot of the plants we see today in Hawaii were introduced from Asia and other parts of Polynesia.
Sometimes we compared certain aspects of Hawaiian culture to other cultures in the Pacific. It was interesting to compare and contrast our native cultures to others.
I have gained an interest in traditional cultures and how they existed before any foreign influence. Not that the influence can be changed because it is now becoming more globally evident, but historically, how cultures and people used to be. That knowledge can now only exist as knowledge in the current day of how "modern" everything is becoming. That knowledge is now what I would like to learn more of.
every cultural aspect.
Every cultural aspect!
EVEN CULTURAL ASPECT
Asian organic and Hawaiian organic medicinal plants and common uses. Very educational and our understanding and knowledge have increased dramatically.
I have learned about others cultural as well, such as the Maori culture.
I learned everything from Hawaiian plants to other cultures plants too.
Broaden my knowledge in other cultures than Hawaiian and how they interacted.
I learned
Hawaiian culture
The issues that Hawaiian people face are a lot similar to other cultures that have been taken over by the US colonization.
The interactions between the Pacific and western world have not been very positive, but Pacific Islanders and Hawaiians have begun to fight back politically.
That Hawaiians are fighting for their rights.
I now have a better understanding of how the different cultures here in Hawaii are intermixed and why this place is called the melting pot of the Pacific.
I have more knowledge about the struggles of the Hawaiian people and understand why certain things happen today.
The Polynesians & Micronesians culture.
I SAY WHAT HAPPEN TO THE POLYNESIAN CULTURE.
I learned that not only the Hawaiian people suffered from persecution but other Pacific people groups as well.
I learned the similarities and differences of Polynesian cultures. How they all are somehow connected, through culture, language, and geography.
I learned that Hawai was not the only island stolen from its people. The islands of Micronesia was another victim of the white man. It projects that the US government is only after land.
I've learned that the US illegally overthrew the Hawaiian monarchy and has been imposing their laws and culture on native Hawaiians.
One of the most significant cross-cultural understandings that I gained from taking this class is the Hawaiian-American crossing. I learned about how Hawaiian culture was compromised by the arrival of foreigners as well as how the Hawaiian culture also tried to live on.
One of the most significant cross-cultural understandings that I gained from taking this class is the Hawaiian-American crossing. I learned about how Hawaiian culture was compromised by the arrival of foreigners as well as how the Hawaiian culture also tried to live on.
I understood the Hawaiian culture a little bit before this class, but when I got taught the information, I was amazed how much more I learned about it. How we had to work hard for what we want, and how we as Native Hawaiians didn't get treated with respect.
I'm gaining understanding about Hawaiian culture
That the white-man (the plantation developers) had no rights in during what they had done. Because of their greed the tried to destroy a kingdom.
Fortunately, they never did succeed and the Hawaiian people will strive to bring a better understanding and knowledge to the rest of the world. EO!!!
That the Hawaiian people have rights that are very sensitive in the political world especially with the military involvement that the Hawaiians are at risk of becoming extinct and need the proper things to happen to preserve the culture through awareness.
The respect of the cross cultural understanding was the most I have gained within everything.
Cross-cultural understandings that I have gained as a result of taking this class is appreciating original native cultures. How they existed before foreign influence. How a culture functioned in a more concentrated totality. Especially in the Hawaiian people who lived with more respect towards the earth, which is where we live and cannot change such things as pollution that we constantly create off of our only earth.
I learned about the religion and traditions.
Kumu Keliikuli was very thorough, efficient and knowledgeable in teaching this course. Again, it helped to broaden my horizon and open up my mind.
CROSS-CULTURALLY I GAINED MORE APPRECIATION OF THE HAWAIANS AND HOW THEY RESPECT EVERYTHING AND ANYTHING THAT'S AROUND THEM.
I am better able to understand the struggles that all Pacific Islanders face regarding the pressures from the white man. Stupid Hoolies.
my understanding of the marshal islands and the test bombing has grown yup. I have learned a lot, but now i have a better understanding of why the Micronesians occupied our lands.
It can apply to other area's in the pacific and America's interests
I gained understandings by learning a lot about the Hawaiian Pacific culture. It's not my culture, but I learned a lot about it and appreciate it a whole lot.
I understand that you shouldn't lose your language if you do your culture will be extinct.
I understand that the culture of the Hawaiian people is a culture that is beautiful and one that needs constant care to help it survive for years to come. It also helps me want to learn more about my Asian Heritage and Culture more in depth.
I have learned that all the different races share the same views about their lands.
I learned that Hawai has a very diverse group of nationalities, religion, and culture.
Pacific island relations are pretty much the same.
I gained the understanding of how important deities were, and how it was interlaced into everyday activities.
I did not get any.
I've learned that my own Hawaiian culture is very similar to the others in the Pacific. I've learned that many of our cultures, if not most, have had contact with foreigners that have changed and impacted our cultures.
I have a better knowledge of the mainland ideas and culture that is being and has been introduced to hawaii and the Hawaiian culture that is and has stayed strong and resisted the change.
I was able to understand the two sides of the western culture and the eastern culture.
planny pakaes now days and haoles now the military trying to take over da land.
I must not take the Western point of view of history as an absolute truth. Its my duty as a student seeking the truth in all matters to investigate and above all question.
Lots.
People all over the world is not living life as they should be due to government and power.
I have learned that by looking at the growth, successes and failures of other countries, we in Hawaii can use our cultural diversities to improve our weak economy as well as be a influential part of the US-Asian relations.
I learn so much more about the Asian cultures and why they are the way they are today because of what happened to them in the past. He explained why Asian is excelling so much more in the past few years than anyone in the world. It makes think what will happen to the united states. There are more than information I know about asia. It is a very delicate and multi-layered. What happened in the US, Asia, and/or any other countries in the world always co-relate to each other. I learned a great deal of how the West influenced the Polynesians. N/A better understanding of where native Hawaiians are coming from

the relations between Pacific peoples: Polynesians, Micronesians, and Melanesians

I have always has alot of cross cultural understandings however this class helped make things clearer for me in the sense of the Hawaiians and their feelings and what they have gone trough in history.

How Hawaii is unique because of it's diversity and what caused it.

A lot of Hawaiian cultural understandings i have gain from this. Even though i live on Oahu there were some stuff that i just found out.

OTHER CULTURES THAT WE LEARNED ABOUT GAVE ME A GREATER DEAL OF INFORMATION BECAUSE WHEN I FIRST HEARD OF SOME OF THESE ISLANDS, I NEVER NEW THEY EXISTED. SO LEARNING ABOUT THEM MADE IT VERY INTERESTING.
