The Self Evaluation Report in its final form will also be posted on our campus intranet for general campus review. Special thanks are due the great staff of our print shop—Jason Oshiro, Glenn Matsumoto, June Chinen, Ray Valencia—for their excellent work in producing the report along with the catalogue.

We still have some “housekeeping” items to attend to, so, for example, if you are responsible for things like committee minutes or other reports, please be sure they get posted—it’s all about the “evidence”—providing documentation of the work we are doing. The year will see some new initiatives set in place—reorganization key among them—as well as refinement of some that are ongoing—refining our program review, budget, and planning process; and management of technology resources.

The work we do in maintaining a standard of excellence as an accredited institution is on-going and integral to college life; the Planning Agenda items identified in our Report will provide a comprehensive “to-do” list for the coming year, and beyond.
